References and Academic Background (Psychology)

Provide the title (eg Ms, Dr, Prof), name, and email address for two referees you have asked to support your application.

You should use two academic referees, or one academic and one professional (work) referee. Referees should be able to speak to your abilities and suitability for the program/s to which you are applying. If your Honours/Fourth Year supervisor is not one of your referees, please explain why in the Comments field. Personal referees—e.g., from parents, neighbours etc—are not acceptable. If you have used/will use the HODSPA Reference Request System, indicate this in the Comments.

The following questions relate to the thesis/significant research project completed as part of your accredited four-year/fourth year program in psychology (or international equivalent¹).

Mark as appropriate: Was/Is your Honours / fourth year thesis Individual or Group²?

If you marked Group, please describe the extent to which group work is involved in your thesis/research project.

Title of your Honours / fourth year thesis/research project:

Honours / Fourth year supervisor's name and contact details (email address and work phone number):

Honours / Fourth Year Coordinator's name and contact details (email address):

Abstract for your thesis/research project (1819 character limit):

If any of the above details are yet to be confirmed, please provide a draft and indicate an approximate date by when the information should be finalised. Please email the finalised, or any changed, information to psychology@unsw.edu.au with the subject "MPsychol application: Thesis title and abstract (SURNAME, UNSW Student ID)*".

¹ International qualifications must be assessed by the Australian Psychological Society before your application is submitted.

² 'Group' refers to any component being completed in a group. Sometimes this is indicated on a transcript, but often it is not.

Eligibility for registration as a Provisional Psychologist

All Master of Psychology and Combined PhD/Master of Psychology students must apply for registration as a Provisional Psychologist as soon as they are enrolled. AHPRA will only approve an application if a student meets all the requirements of a range of registration standards, accessible via the Psychology Board of Australia website (<http://www.psychologyboard.gov.au/Standards-and-Guidelines/Registration-Standards.aspx>).

If you are completing this form, it is expected that you will familiarise yourself with the registration standards when you submit your application.

Please confirm you have read and understood each Standard by marking the relevant boxes.

- I have read the Provisional Registration Standard
- I have read the Criminal History Registration Standard
- I have read the English Language Skills Registration Standard

I meet the requirements of the English Language Skills Registration Standard through the:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Primary Language Pathway
Recognised country(ies): _____ | <input type="checkbox"/> Extended Education Pathway
Recognised country(ies): _____ |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Combined Secondary and Tertiary Education Pathway
Recognised country(ies): _____ | <input type="checkbox"/> English Language Test Pathway
Which test? _____ |

NOTE: AHPRA may refuse an application for provisional registration if any standard's requirements are not met. The English Language Skills Registration Standard tends to cause the most confusion and applies to both international AND domestic students.

Any applicant may, therefore, be asked at any time during application assessment, shortlisting or interview to provide evidence of how they meet the requirements of this standard.

- I currently meet—or will be able to meet, prior to December—the requirements of the Standards listed above
